Abstracts Guidelines

Abstracts of no more than 300 words (typed using Times New Roman font and 1.5 spacing formats) should be emailed to the conference coordinators by 31st of August, 2022 or submitted through the website tab on Abstract Submission.

Abstracts should include affiliation, address and email of authors, as more specific correspondence would be sent only to confirmed participants as the date approaches.

Full papers (typed using Times New Roman font and 1.5 spacing formats) must be submitted by 30 September 2022 through the same modality used to submit the abstracts.

The Conference encourages abstracts and papers from different intellectual perspectives. But specific areas of scholarship that are highly needed for the Conference are: research oriented, theory-oriented, practice oriented and interdisciplinary studies.

The criteria for assessing the abstracts and papers will include:

1. How the issue or topic is aligned to the conference theme or the sub-themes?
2. How the proposal/abstract is rigorous and appropriate in answering the research question(s)?
3. How well grounded is the proposal/abstract in the use of a broadly accepted theoretical framework and research methodology?
4. To what extent does literature or previous evidence provide a basis for the paper?
5. How rigorous is the analysis and how well does it address the research question?
6. To what extent are the conclusions consistent with the analytical approach?
7. How the recommendations add value to contemporary academic and programmatic discourse?
8. How well conclusions are supported by evidence and findings?

We welcome abstracts and papers that push boundary on the central theme and the sub themes of the Conference. Our world today requires academics to challenge outmoded thinking, upturn established idea and evolve disruptive solutions that really transform the society. The knowledge society of today calls for continuous disruption and total reformation of all domains of life for human progress and advancement. Thus each abstract must be guided by the underlying premise of the Conference.
